GOVERNING BOARD POLICY REFERENCE OR STATUTORY CITATION: BBA, DJE and ARS 15-213

SUPPORTING DATA

Attached is information for the contract that has been previously awarded by the Governing Board. This contract will soon be expiring. Because performance under this contract has been satisfactory, extension of the contract is recommended. SUBMITTED BY: Cathy Thompson, Director of Business Services
PRESENTER AT GOVERNING BOARD MEETING: Howard Kropp, Administrator of Purchasing
GOVERNING BOARD POLICY REFERENCE OR STATUTORY CITATION: BBA

SUPPORTING DATA

The Purchasing Department is recommending authorization to utilize the contracts presented for anticipated purchases in excess of the bidding threshold. No school or department can spend more than is budgeted without prior approval from the Finance Department. Schools and departments budget for goods or services without a particular vendor in mind.

Presented is a list of Intergovernmental Cooperative Purchase Agreements related to the Purchasing Department previously awarded by the Governing Board.

A.R.S. 11-952 and A.A.C. R7-2-1191 through R7-2-1195 authorizes and governs intergovernmental procurements. A school district may either, participate in, sponsor, conduct, or administer a cooperative purchasing agreement for the procurement of any materials, services, or construction with one or more public procurement units in accordance with an agreement entered into between the participants. By participating in a cooperative purchase, public entities that bid common items/services can obtain economy of scale pricing and best value and reduce administrative duplication of cost and effort for all participating public entities.

Copies of the contracts are available for review in the Purchasing Department. The Purchasing Department follows a process to perform due diligence on every cooperative contract prior to making a recommendation for award.

It is recommended that the Governing Board approve the Intergovernmental Cooperative Purchase Agreements and contract purchases with the Greater Phoenix Purchasing Consortium of Schools (GPPCS) and Strategic Alliance for Volume Expenditures (SAVE).

AGENDA ITEM: *Issue RFP for Specified Services – Magazine Subscriptions and On-line Resources to Support Social Studies

INITIATED BY: Howard Kropp, Director of Purchasing
SUBMITTED BY: Cathy Thompson, Director of Business Services

PRESENTER AT GOVERNING BOARD MEETING: Howard Kropp, Director of Purchasing

GOVERNING BOARD POLICY REFERENCE OR STATUTORY CITATION: BBA, DJE and ARS 15-213

SUPPORTING DATA

The purpose of requesting authorization to issue request for proposals (RFPs) is to obtain qualified firms to provide specified services required by the District. In this case, it is not practical or advantageous to procure these services by competitive sealed bidding because a bid does not allow the District to use a contract other than a fixed-price type, conduct oral or written discussions with offerors concerning technical and price aspects of their proposals, afford offerors an opportunity to revise their proposals, nor allow the District to compare the different price, quality, and contractual factors of the proposals submitted and award a contract in which price is not the determining factor.

Copies of the requests for proposal specifications associated with each of the services noted on the attached list will be available for review in the Purchasing Department.

SUMMARY AND RECOMMENDATION

It is recommended that the Governing Board authorize the issuance of RFP No. 11.019 for the solicitation for Magazine Subscriptions and RFP No. 11.020 for On-line Resources to Support Social Studies.

SUPPORTING DATA

During the planning stages for the rebuilding of Lookout Mountain Elementary School, it was discovered that this site was recorded as two separate pieces of land.

In addition, there are currently three right of way easements previously dedicated for this site:

- One 30 foot easement on the western property along Coral Gables Drive (approximately 330 feet long);
- One 55 foot easement on the eastern property along Coral Gables Drive to Central Avenue (approximately 660 feet long);
- One 25 foot easement on the eastern property along Central Avenue (approximately 660 feet long).

The 55 foot easement is larger than the normally required easement for an elementary school site on a residential street. It is being recommended that the District apply to the City of Phoenix to abandon the 55 foot easement.

In order for the City to consider the abandonment of this 55 foot easement, it is necessary to rededicate 30 feet of land for a new easement along Coral Gables Drive.

SUMMARY AND RECOMMENDATION

It is recommended that the Governing Board approve the submittal of a request to file and record Lookout Mountain Elementary School as a single plat of land. It is further recommended that the Governing Board approve the submittal of a request to the City of Phoenix to abandon the current 55 foot easement and to replace it with a 30 foot right of way easement along Coral Gables Drive (the 25 foot right of way easement along Central Avenue will remain as is). It is also recommended that the Governing Board authorize the Superintendent to execute all documents related to the transactions.

Refiling of Lookout Mountain Elementary School as a Single Plat and Dedication of a Right of Way Easement to City of Phoenix

It is being recommended that the District submit a request to the City of Phoenix for the following:

- Combine both properties and submit a new plat for the single Lookout Mountain property.
- Abandon the 55 foot easement on the east property along Coral Gables Drive.
- Dedicate a 30 foot right of way easement along Coral Gables Drive and a 25 foot right of way easement along Central Avenue.

The amount of land that the Washington Elementary School District will eventually have dedicated to the City of Phoenix for easements will actually be less than is currently dedicated.

SUPPORTING DATA

In February 2009, the Washington Elementary School District introduced a truancy prevention program to attempt to lower the rising numbers of truant students. Following the 2008-2009 school year, all the data were examined and the program seemed to have positive results on the truancy problem. Beginning with the 2009-2010 school year, the Truancy Prevention Unit (TPU) was established. Some small changes were made to the previous program, and the data gathered supported the previous findings that the program was producing a positive effect on the truancy throughout the District. Following the 2010-2011 school year, the second full year for the Washington Elementary School District (WESD) Truancy Prevention Unit (TPU), the total number of habitually truant students in the District decreased by 13%. Only two WESD schools showed an increase in habitually truant students from 2009-2010 to 2010-2011.

The TPU received 1,611 referrals and conducted over 3,709 home visits and/or school visits, talking with students and parents. The TPU issued 159 citations to 6th, 7th, and 8th grade students who, by Arizona Revised Statute standards, were deemed habitually truant and failed to respond to intervention steps offered by the schools and the TPU.

In addition 89 parents were cited into City of Phoenix Municipal Court for failing to ensure their children between the ages of 6 and 16 were in school, a Class 3 misdemeanor under Arizona Revised Statute 15-802. Following the issuance of a truancy citation to a student or parent, 57% of students had fewer absences after their court appearances, and 6% of those students had perfect attendance following court appearances. Between August 15, 2011 and January 1, 2012, the TPU has received 419 referrals and has conducted over 550 home visits.

Truancy Prevention Unit (TPU) Update
January 26, 2012

The WESD TPU was approached by the City of Phoenix Prosecutors Office in March of 2011 and asked to conduct an in-service training for all City Prosecutors on the truancy process from school, to TPU, to Police Department, to Prosecutor’s Office. This in-service was conducted in May 2011 with over 30 City Prosecutors in attendance. The Director of the Charging Bureau for the Prosecutor’s Office requested that WESD coordinate with a Prosecutor from their Community Bureau to coordinate a step that will take place between identification of a prosecutable case and arrest.

In a joint effort among TPU, the Phoenix Police Department and the City of Phoenix Prosecutor’s Office, the Truancy Intervention Prevention Solutions (TIPS) program was implemented. TIPS is a pre-arrest meeting that is held with the TPU, police officer, prosecutor, WESD social services representative, school representative, parent and student. During this meeting, the parent and student have the opportunity to identify the reasons for the truancy problem. The parents and student are informed of State laws regarding truancy and are informed of the steps that will be followed once the decision has been made to prosecute. At this meeting all agency representatives offer resources within their areas to assist the family with any barriers that are preventing good school attendance.

The first TIPS meeting was held on November 28, 2011 at Ocotillo Elementary School for one truant Palo Verde Middle School student and his parent. The Arizona Republic newspaper expressed interest in the WESD Truancy Program and, with the approval of the parent, a reporter was in attendance at the meeting. On December 7, 2011, an article titled “Washington schools try pilot anti-truancy plan” was published in the Phoenix News section of the paper. An additional article titled “Child truancy program to begin” was published in the Valley and State section of the Arizona Republic newspaper on December 10, 2011. The second TIPS meetings were held for four truant students and their parents on Tuesday, January 10, 2012.

Washington schools try pilot anti-truancy plan

By Maria Polletta
The Republic/scenemed.com

In a 180-day school year, state law considers any absences beyond 18 days "excessive."

Since classes began in August, a Washington Elementary School District middle-school student has missed more than 30 days.

He is intelligent, his mom said, but he has behavioral issues including Tourette syndrome and is resistant to going to school after he gets behind in his lessons.

The boy and his mother were the first to participate in a new anti-truancy program piloted by the school district.

"The program involves personalized meetings — primarily with parents and students on the verge of being cited for truancy — to inform them of potential consequences and to help them form a plan to avoid them."

The program will begin with students and families at Palo Verde Middle School, Washington Elementary and Ocotillo Elementary. Beginning in January, most meetings will be arranged as 30-minute Saturday sessions. District officials are willing to work around family schedules.

School officials, the district truancy officer, a Phoenix police officer and a social worker will be present at each meeting. The Phoenix city prosecutor's office, which prosecutes parents who refuse to comply with school-attendance policy, also will be represented.

"We have a general theory that kids in school mean less kids in jail later on," said Kent McCarthy, bureau chief of community prosecution and appeals.

"So these prevention programs are right up our alley."

Sometimes, truancy issues stem from a student simply refusing to go to school. But more often than not, another complication exists.

"Sometimes, an older student is kept home to babysit younger siblings while parents are at work," said Dorothy Watkins, the school district's administrator of social services. "Sometimes, parents have health issues and kids are afraid to leave them at home or the parents want them there. You also have a lot of situations where both parents are working and they both leave before the student has to leave, so the children are responsible for getting themselves up and out the door."

The economy has exacerbated those problems as families lose insurance coverage or are no longer able to afford professional childcare, Watkins said.

Washington District truancy coordinator John Shikanai said schools typically refer students to him for "early intervention" after 10 absences, and he's had about 700 referrals since school started.

Though he sends out mailers and does home visits to attempt to stem absenteeism before a citation is necessary, he cited 380 students and nearly 90 parents last school year.

The meetings will be another preventative tool for him, Shikanai said, and hopefully will allow for more creativity in terms of looking for solutions or strategies.

If the program is successful, the district may expand it to other schools.

Cast member relates to 'Amahl' role

Grand Canyon University's Elgin ton Theatre Series is presenting "Amahl and the Night Visitors," a feel-good Christmas story that has its own feel-good story involving a member of the cast.

"Amahl," written by Gian Carlo Menotti, is an opera about a disabled shepherd boy (Amahl) and his mother, who wants more for her son than to be a beggar on the streets.

Phoenix resident Claire Pennesi plays Amahl's mother. Pennesi, 38, is a full-time student and a working mother of three.

"I can relate to Amahl's mother because I've been there," Pennesi says.

"Amahl's mother feels like she has the weight of the world on her shoulders, and she goes from this place of utter hopelessness and despair to something wonderful. It's really neat to see her transformation."

The final three performances will be 7:30 p.m. Friday and Saturday and 2 p.m. Sunday. Call 602-639-8880 for tickets.
